Wild: Michael Nichols

Through September 17

Explore the work of legendary photographer Michael Nichols, artist, technical innovator, and ardent advocate for preserving natural habitats. The art is so wild we can't keep it all in one place. So keep your eyes peeled and you'll see Wild photography paired with other artworks throughout the Museum.

Dorrance Program Space

Art Splash

Creating a Legacy

Ofelia Garcia

Since 2013, Ofelia Garcia has donated some sixty-seven works on paper to the Museum, and this year she established a bequest through her estate. An Associate member, retired professor of art, and former college president, she said, "What a joy to know that works I have loved for years will now be cared for, exhibited, studied, and enjoyed by many others. . . . I am immensely pleased to be a Museum supporter."

To read her full article please visit philamuseum.org/plannedgiving.

To make a gift of art, or to learn how you can leave your own legacy, please contact us at giving@philamuseum.org or 215-684-7756.

Member Savings

When we say the kids in your life get in free, we mean it. Your kids, grandkids, nieces, nephews, or the kids you're babysitting—if they're under 18, they're free. This includes Art Splash, which is open all month long.

Does not apply to school groups.

July Dining Perk

Free animal crackers with the purchase of a salad or sandwich in the Museum Café.
